The people of Oklahoma have been calling conventions for years Livery, Sale and Feed Stable to urge congress to give us etate hood in any old form that congress sav fi to enact. We have deluged congress with protests against our present oppressive forms of territorial government. As free born American citizens we have demanded statebood as a right, at the same time telling congress that we were not particular as to the conditions of admission. Now, however, that the matter has come before congress, the people of the territory just as vigorously demand their kind of statehood or none. Conventions are called for single statehood, conventions are talked for double statehood; some want the territorial lines extended so as to take in the Indian territory and et statehood be a matter for future consideration In fact, every conseivable kind of demand is made now. No other territory had so many conflicting claims to present to congress. Congress wished to give a different rame to South Dakota, but the people were a unit. The same thing was true with regard to a name for Washington. Congressmen wanted to cut the long panhandle from Idaho, but the people were a unit our old customers come and for all their territory. The sug gestion for the changes of the northern states were minor ones, but in our case it is different. People forget that congress has not been staying up nights trying to get us to accept some f.rm of statebood.
